

Definindo o Período Ativo

Se no menu Utilitários>Configurações do Sistema

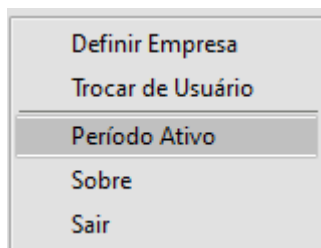

you have configured to use automatic company definition,

When accessing the System, automatically, the screen will be opened for you to define the active period

Or, if during the processes that are being performed there is a need to change the active period in which you will be working, click with the right mouse button in the center of the screen and the system will open the same screen for you to be able to change the Active Period

Você somente poderá cadastrar e editar documentos cujas datas estejam dentro do período definido.

A definição do período será solicitada cada vez que você for definir uma empresa e poderá ser alterada a qualquer momento através do menu de acesso rápido, clicando com o botão direito do mouse:
